ADDITIONAL INFORMATION:

“Jo is no doubt one of the finest editors I have ever worked with. More than that, she is a true filmmaker. Her directing, writing, and storytelling instincts make her a real talent and perfect collaborator”.

Jamie Donoghue, Oscar nominated Writer/Director

“Jo was an integral part of the team on His Dark Materials, helping us navigate dense and challenging storylines with clarity, precision and a lightness of touch. She had an ability to provide both an individual perspective on her episodes and simultaneously understand the larger needs of the show in story terms and this was invaluable”. Stephen Haren, Producer

“Jo is a wonderful editor: inventive, sensitive, innovative and with a great instinct for pacing, storytelling, judging performance and making really interesting musical choices. She’s a very positive presence in the cutting room and also stops you eating too many biscuits. Can’t wait to work with her again”.

Sandra Goldbacher, Director

“Jo is a very talented editor who can interweave complex narrative strands, and has a natural gift for editing dialogue. I was first introduced to her when we worked together on ITV’s Vera. During the initial stages of editing I was impressed by her collaborative approach, attention to detail and hard-working attitude. During the fine cut Jo showed great creative vision, suggesting many ideas that helped enhance the story. It was a real pleasure working with Jo and I sincerely hope I have another opportunity to work with her in the future”. Paul Gay, Director
